

WANT STEEL AND LABOR LEADERS IN CONFERENCE

Group Of Unionists Ask Roosevelt To Call Meeting

By Elton C. Fay
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, June 5.—(AP)—A group of unionists asked today that President Roosevelt summon steel and labor leaders "to put their knees under the same table in a conference to thresh out the troubles of that industry."

They said they would not accept a proposal being worked out by Hugh S. Johnson for a separate labor board for the steel industry and that, failing a presidentially called labor-steel conference.

"Three hundred thousand steel workers stand ready June 16 to shut down their plants so it will be quiet enough to talk."

March On Washington

Even as these representatives of locals of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers spoke, word came of a proposed "march on Washington" by a group of steel workers designating themselves as representing the "rank and file" and led by Earle J. Forbeck of Pittsburgh.

The march, said Forbeck, would come unless President Roosevelt assured union leaders now at the capital that the Wagner labor dispute bill or similar legislation prohibiting so-called company unions would be written into law.

Meanwhile, a group of leaders in the automotive industry, headed by Alfred P. Sloan of General Motors, called upon President Roosevelt, to protest passage of the Wagner bill. Johnson said they came also to discuss the steel situation.

The motor industry is one of the largest users of steel and would be one of the first to feel such a curtailment as would result from a steel strike.

Shortly after the automotive leaders had left the White House and immediately following the informal rejection of his peace plan by the steel workers, Johnson went to the White House for a luncheon conference with President Roosevelt. He said later he had not presented the labor demands to Mr. Roosevelt.

A statement under the signatures of five local steel leaders said:

"We expect to remain in Washington only a short time. As much as a steel strike is about to break throughout the land."

First we owe it to the president to explain why, through no fault of his, this situation can be solved by him only. Also why his election proposition in the new steel code is unacceptable to steel workers.

That seems to have come from General Johnson, who sits with the iron and steel institute on the steel code authority.

"We object to Johnson hanging more dead cats on the president. One was the auto settlement which lugged in company unions to cut the throats of honest unions. Another is this code elections provision which names no date nor place nor supervisor and doesn't tell whether Amalgamated Association or company union will be on the ballot or whether the end of the vote means any recognition."

The statement reviewed efforts to procure negotiation machinery satisfactory to labor, including the Weirton elections case, and then said:

Nine months of this explains why NRA has come to mean national ruin around.

CLOSE CHEESE PLANT

Carion, Ill., June 5.—(AP)—Inability to obtain sufficient milk as the result of drying pastures today forced the closing of the plant here of the Meeco Cheese company.

Dry weather has reduced daily local milk receipts from 11,000 to 8,000 pounds. Many farmers have been hauling drinking water for several weeks.

Lightning Stops Tooth Pulling By Chicago Dentist

Chicago, June 5.—(AP)—Deficient in rain, an electrical storm broke over the city today and managed to make the headlines.

Lightning struck a 20 foot flag pole on an office building and shattered it. In the building Dr. J. H. Bonar, dentist, had the forceps on a tooth of Mrs. G. Barnes, ready to pull it.

The room filled with electricity from the strike and Mrs. Barnes fainted. She was revived and sent home, with her tooth unremoved.

COMMONS HAS APPROVED WAR DEBT POLICY

Payments Suspended Until U. S. Agrees To Conference

By Harold P. Braman
Associated Press Foreign Staff
London, June 5.—(AP)—The House of Commons today approved the new war debt policy today as Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced payments had been suspended until the United States is willing to confer on full and final settlement of the whole problem.

Amid cries of "Heart Hear!" from the opposition as well as the government benches, the Chancellor declared "we are not defaulters," and asserted that Britain would have been willing to make another token payment June 15, but could not obtain official assurance from President Roosevelt that the Johnson act does not outlaw anything but payment in full.

The president, Chamberlain said, "twice personally" told Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador at Washington, "that a token payment would be accepted on the June installment, but these promises were made before the passage of the Johnson act, which cuts off American credit to defaulting nations."

"Since then," President Roosevelt has been unable to assure us officially that a token payment would not be regarded as default," said the Chancellor. "In fact, Sir Ronald was told after the bill's approval that tokens would be classified as default."

"We had no alternative then but to suspend payments until President Roosevelt is ready to discuss settlement of the entire problem."

There was considerable resentment in evidence among the members of the house over the publication of the British note outlining the new position ahead of Mr. Chamberlain's speech here.

"My intention was," said the Chancellor, "to have had the announcement simultaneously in Washington and London, but on account of confusion in the exchange of telegrams, the note was published in Washington two hours after it was delivered to the state department."

"However, I do not blame the United States government for the mistake which was made."

After his speech in the House of Commons, Chamberlain released a "white paper," which contained the text of the note of the United States of May 23 calling attention to the sum due June 15 and the amount, totaling $262,000,000, and the British note delivered yesterday. There also was a lengthy argument against the contention that the budget surplus here should have been used to pay war debts.

The House of Commons was crowded to hear the statement of the Chancellor, the seats reserved for Foreign Ambassadors and distinguished strangers as well as other portions of the Chamber being filled.

Since the Johnson act made it impossible to follow the procedure of past payment days and make a token tender, Chamberlain said, the government was faced with the alternatives of paying $262,000,000 or suspending all payments "pending a final revision of the existing war debt settlement."

ON INSPECTION TOUR

Chicago, June 5.—(AP)—Arthur P. Holt, director of subsistence gardens for the Illinois emergency relief commission, left Chicago today for an inspection tour of downstate subsistence gardens to ascertain the damage that has been done to relief gardens by the drought. He plans to make a county-by-county survey.

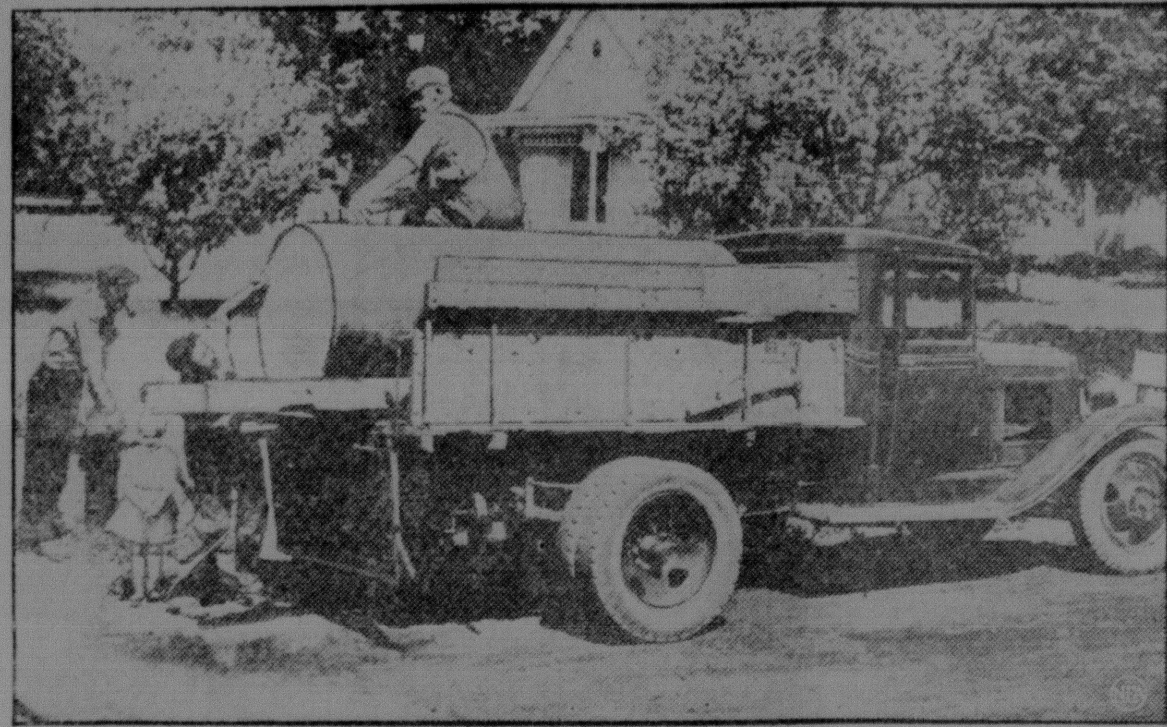

The relief commission projects include the planting of community garden tracts for over 35,000 families this summer, in 90 downstate counties.

Washington, June 5.—(AP)—The house highway bill, modified to authorize an additional federal grant of $200,000,000 for roads, was passed today by the Senate and sent back to the house for consideration of amendments.

The house had approved $400,000,000.

NEW YORK, June 5.—(AP)—Revenue freight car loadings of the first eight railroads reporting for the week ended June 2, which included the Memorial Day holiday, totaled 110,232 cars compared with 117,561 in the previous full week, and 101,106 in the same week a year ago.

Drouth Forces 20-Mile Water Haul For Livestock

Iowa farmers are on the water wagon in earnest as a result of the drouth that has dried wells and scared crops over the entire midwest, taking toll of millions. Here are shown members of the Gaul family, with their truck and the tank in which they haul water 20 miles from Des Moines to their farm for their livestock. The family's own supply is transported in milk cans.

CONDEMNED MAN WILL BE FREED JULY 11, 1936

J. R. Silver Escaped Electric Chair In 1928

Austin, Texas, June 5.—(AP)—J. R. Silver, 31, saved from the electric chair at the eleventh hour by a commutation granted in 1928 by Dan Moody, then governor, will be released from prison July 11, 1936, under a clemency order granted by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

Silver participated in a robbery in which Roscoe Wilson, treasurer of a Fort Worth theater, was killed.

His head was being shaved in preparation for his death in the electric chair when Governor Moody's order commuting his sentence to life imprisonment reached the state penitentiary. Silver faints.

About six months later he escaped from the Winne state prison farm, but was recaptured.

Conduct Exemplary

His conduct since has been exemplary, prison officials said.

Warden W. W. Waid of the Huntsville penitentiary and other prison officials recommended clemency be granted by Governor Ferguson.

Silver now is a trusty in the office of the warden. He has served as superintendent of the prison's schools and was in charge of the band.

"That's sure fine," Silver said today when informed of the governor's act. "Neither the governor nor any one else will ever have cause to regret such action. I'm going straight. I'm going back to my mother and try to undo some of the things which I have done."

Silver's mother, Mrs. Mary Louise Silver of Kansas City, was credited with being chiefly responsible for persuading former Gov. Moody to commute the death sentence. She spent many days in Austin and made repeated pleas to the governor for her son's life.

ASKS WALLACE TO INCLUDE ILLINOIS IN DROUGHT AREA

Gov. Horner Wants Federal Government to Aid Drought Stricken Farmers

Springfield, Ill., June 5.—(AP)—Governor Horner today asked Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace to include Illinois in the official drought area established by the federal government.

The governor, in a telegram sent from Chicago and made public here, asked that this action be taken to enable the movement into our state of livestock feed and farm seeds on the basis of emergency freight rates and also to permit the allocation of emergency relief funds to our state to be loaned to drought stricken Illinois farmers.

J. H. Lloyd, assistant director of the state department of agriculture, who has been designated by the governor to head drought relief work in Illinois, today asked county farm advisers to ascertain the number of farmers who will require seed and feed loans, and the total funds that will be needed to purchase emergency feed and forage crop seeds.

Meanwhile, Walter McLaughlin, director of the state department of agriculture, announced that preliminary surveys showed eight northeastern Illinois counties with a total of 6,150 farmers in need of hay to keep livestock alive. The counties were Lake, Du Page, McHenry, Boone, Kendall, De Kalb, Cook, and Kane.

Of these 6,150 farmers, McLaughlin said, 2,500 lack both funds and credit with which to purchase the needed supplies. 3,600 are financially handicapped but might repay loans, while the remainder are financially able to handle their own needs.

Dreams He Is In Train Wreck And Smashes Window

Pontiac, Ill., June 5.—(AP)—When a dashed wrist awakened J. Earl Kinnebrew, a railroad man of Springfield, Mo., Monday night, he realized he wasn't in a train wreck at all, but had thrust his fist through a cabin window.

Kinnebrew and his wife, en route to Chicago to visit a Century of Progress Exposition, stopped here Monday and rented a tourist camp cabin. Sometime during the night, Kinnebrew said, he dreamed he was in a railroad wreck and was breaking a window to escape from an overturned coach.

ICKES DECLARES JUDGE TRIED TO BLACKMAIL HIM

Interior Secretary Had Witnesses Concealed In Office

By M. E. Collins
Associated Press Staff Writer

Chicago, June 5.—(AP)—Secretary of the interior Ickes from the witness stand today bluntly accused Lucius J. M. Malm, elderly Chicago lawyer and former judge, of the Virgin Islands of having sought to blackmail him into obtaining the appointment of Malm and C. W. Larsen that at the time the alleged blackmail was attempted Ickes had two witnesses concealed in his office at Washington to overhear the conversation.

The secretary was the third and star witness at the hearing instigated at his request against the two Chicago attorneys.

Frequent clashes between witnesses and Malm marked the proceedings. The affair, Ickes said, had its beginning in the handling of the estate of Clarence Saunders by Ickes, firm. In 1931, he said, Larsen had approached him in reference to the redemption from tax sales of two pieces of land by Marshall Stimson, an attorney who was handling the estate property in Los Angeles. Larsen, he said, charged the property was not worth the money.

The secretary said he next heard of the affair when Larsen called on him at his Chicago office the day the newspapers announced Ickes' appointment as Secretary of the Interior. At that time, he said, Larsen had a petition charging Ickes with mismanagement of the Saunders estate. Later, he said, the petition was thrown out of probate court because it was not properly signed.

Malm entered the picture, said Ickes about the time of his appointment.

Malm met me at my office and congratulated me and told me he was going to be governor of the Virgin Islands. I congratulated him.

Ickes said Malm next appeared on the scene at Washington in mid-July last year. There, he said, Malm asked him for an appointment, which was refused. On the same afternoon, he said, his assistant told him Malm had been at his office making threats, and advised him to see the lawyer.

I sent for him, said the cabinet member. He greeted me effusively, told me what a good secretary I would make, and what a good friend of his I was.

He told me he wanted the appointment as governor of the Virgin Islands, and that I was very close to the president and all I had to do was to take him to the president and say: "This is my good friend Judge Malm of Chicago."

G. O. P. WILL SELECT NEW PILOT TODAY

Party's $206,000 Deficit Has Been Wiped Out

Chicago, June 5.—(AP)—Delayed by an uprising of some of their young followers, the Republican National Committee, convened to select a new pilot, tonight postponed that important task, but set to work on a 1934 platform and fall battle cry.

Soon after formally opening its meeting, the committee found itself split into divergent groups over the question of filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of National Chairman Everett Sanders.

And later, as party leaders worked for close harmony, it became the object of a broadside from a former Minnesota representative.

These complications led the pilot pickers to defer action on the chairmanship until tomorrow morning.

Wipe Out Debt.

But two major accomplishments marked the initial session of the committee: A decision to hammer together an off year election platform and submit it to the voters with a view to regaining some lost ground in the coming congressional elections and the wiping out of the party's deficit of $206,000.

While the committee members were still mulling over their division into rival camps of "Hoover men" and another insisting that new and preferably western names be given a chance at the party's chairmanship, the new jolt to party serenity knocked on the doors of their closed room in the form of a delegation from Young Republican League. They sought opportunity to express their views on the iring problems of the party—particularly its prospective high command.

Mostly, so the visitors said before and after their appearance at the scene of the national group's meeting, those views were loyal and "regular."

But Melvin J. Maas, former Minnesota representative, charged in a statement he made public as he requested audience with the party bosses for the league delegation that the party had "sheltered political racketeers," "servants of Wall Street," and alleged that its recent leaders had been "subservient to finance."

He quoted the so-called "old guard" to advocate.

Committee members arose immediately to defend past leadership and the body voted to quash Maas' statement and keep it secret. But the Minnesota had released it to the press before entering the committee's chamber.

The decision to plank out an off year platform was without precedent in the party's history. Six men and three women will decide what the G. O. P. will offer in the way of a statement of policies. Charles D. Hilles, veteran New York leader and advocate of "new blood" in the party who is considered no warm friend of the Hoover administration, was selected as the head of the platform group. Other members are:

The policy committee, which it was said might adopt "the square deal" as the party's slogan, immediately went into session. It will report tomorrow.

Earlier, after hearing from George F. Getz of Chicago, treasurer, that (Continued on Page Six)

FRANCE PUSHES ASIDE QUESTION OF WAR DEBTS

Parliament Turns Attention To Funds For Reinforcing Armaments

Paris, June 5.—(AP)—France pushed aside the question of war debts with a feeling of relief today after learning that Great Britain would make no payment June 15 and Parliament turned to consideration of the government's plan to borrow money to pay for reinforcing armaments.

Great Britain's attitude of coming finally to the French position of making no payments was attributed in some quarters to "America's haughty attitude," and it remained only for the cabinet to draft a formal statement of its position to forward to Washington.

The finance committee of the Chamber of Deputies, meanwhile, approved the government's armament budget, calling for the expenditure of 3,000,000,000 francs (nearly $200,000,000) in strengthening the nation's defenses.

Francois Pietri, Minister of the navy, revealed to the committee that the government intends to float a loan to pay for part of the new fortifications.

War veterans plastered the walls of Paris with posters bearing the legend, "no reparations, no debt." A statement in smaller type said "the debt installment due America June 15 must not be paid."

Government Files $500,000 Suit Against Olympic

New York, June 5.—(AP)—The White Star liner Olympic was steaming into New York tonight with a $500,000 damage suit against her, the result of her sinking of the Nantuxet Shoals lightship with the loss of seven lives May 15.

The United States government filed the libel, claiming the collision was due to negligence. Attorneys for the Olympic's owners provided a $500,000 bond so that the liner would be unhampered in leaving port Friday.

In charging the Olympic with responsibility for the crash, the government demanded that the vessel be condemned and sold to pay the damages.

The libel claimed the Olympic was not in charge of a competent person and also that the vessel was proceeding at an excessive and dangerous speed in a fog.

RELIEF PROGRAM FOR MIDWEST IS BEING PREPARED

President Roosevelt And Leaders Are In Agreement

By Sam Bledsoe
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, June 5.—(AP)—In less than an hour today, President Roosevelt and a congressional delegation agreed on a $525,000,000 relief program for the drought areas of the west and mid-west.

The sum, which may be increased should rain fail to break the unprecedented dry spell, is by far the largest ever contemplated by an administration to offset a calamity growing out of natural causes.

Mr. Roosevelt had a plan already prepared to lay before the visitors from the capitol. He outlined it. It was discussed briefly and the members went away apparently satisfied.

The president said there were no hard and fast allocations to be made out of the $525,000,000 and that he wished the appropriation to be flexible enough to take care of changes in needs.

Will Send Message

The chief executive is expected to send a message to congress asking for the drought fund within the next few days. Meanwhile, he will watch the situation closely. Several members said Mr. Roosevelt might increase the figure should the drought continue without abatement.

On the basis of a survey made by officials closely in touch with the drought, however, provisional allotments for the $525,000,000 include:

$100,000,000 for work and direct relief.

$100,000,000 for a cattle and live stock purchase program.

$100,000,000 for the processing and distribution of the cattle and other animals bought.

$100,000,000 for a feed loan fund.

$50,000,000 for the purchase and elimination from cultivation sub-marginal lands in North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Wyoming.

$50,000,000 for the establishment of work camps, similar to the civilian conservation corps, in the parched sections.

$25,000,000 for seed purchases.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, said after the conference that a separate bill probably was the best way to handle the drought fund but that the fund might be added to the pending deficiency appropriation bill.

"Before the end of the session," he said, "a message recommending appropriations of approximately $500,000,000, to be used by existing machinery, in providing relief for stock and human beings will be sent to congress by the president."

The drought relief plan was worked out by Chester Davis, farm administrator; Rexford G. Twigwell, assistant secretary of agriculture; Harry L. Hopkins, head of the relief administration, and their aides. It later was expended by President Roosevelt.

NORMAN L. JONES IS CHIEF JUSTICE

Springfield, Ill., June 5.—(AP)—Following the induction of Norman L. Jones of Carrollton as chief justice, the Illinois supreme court today opened its June term.

Jones succeeded Warren Orr of Carthage as chief justice, the position rotating among the members of the court. He will hold the office for one year.

The court has under consideration one of the heaviest advisement dockets in its history, there being 115 cases up for decision at this time.

Among them are the interest suits against former Governor Len Small, the Jack Lieber case in which Cook county method of selecting grand juries is at issue, and an attack on the constitutionality of the Skarda Act through which county collectors have been putting properties with delinquent taxes in receiverships.

The court is not expected to end its term before June 21, at which time its decisions will be announced.

The Roodhouse community was represented here yesterday by H. C. Rawlings.

ILLINOIS RIVER VALLEY MAY BE REAL PARADISE

Government Plans To Spend $27,000,000 On Projects

Washington, June 5.—(AP)—Federal expenditure of $27,000,000 would make the Illinois River Valley little short of a paradise in waterway development, it was said today in the report of the interdepartmental commission to congress.

In transmitting the report to congress President Roosevelt called attention that the report was merely a hurriedly collected summary of recommendations from the war, interior, and agricultural departments, and that before it was accepted as final a more extensive survey should be made before the next congress.

"The Illinois river valley project," the report stated, "offers a diversified program of work which, if carried out, should prove of decided benefit, social and economic value to the basin."

Recommend Project

"The favorable consideration of this project is therefore recommended, subject to the imposed limitations, on the number of selected projects throughout the United States. The estimated cost of this project relating to the construction work alone is $27,000,000."

The construction of new dams to replace old ones, the widening of channels, the building of levees and dams, elevating bridges, development of electrical power, draining of lowlands, reforestation, and flood control figured with equal emphasis in the report.

The general recommendations were:

1. Immediate completion of two locks and dams, and channel widening in Illinois river, to cost $15,530,000.

2. Early construction of flood control works and channel improvement of the Kankakee and Sangamon rivers, and levees on the Illinois, to cost $6,300,000; and possible future construction of additional works on the Sangamon and Illinois rivers to cost $600,000.

3. The progressive development of water power possibilities of the valley, particularly those at navigation dams on the Illinois (presumably by the state of Illinois) involving an estimated capacity of 46,500 kilowatts, and a cost of about $4,200,000.

4. Continued investigation of stream flow and ground water conditions at an estimated cost of $105,000.

5. Restoration of forests on about 300,000 acres of eroded land.

John J. Reeve

In the sudden passing Tuesday morning of Attorney John J. Reeve, Jacksonville has lost one of its most prominent and highly respected citizens. A man of genial disposition and philosophic mind, he made many friends who were always pleased to chat with him whenever they chanced
to meet.

Mr. Reeve was a man of kindly nature. He was well informed on public affairs and wise in his conclusions
on the problems of the day.

Mr. Reeve followed the practice of law, but found time for a varied community service. He rose high in the business life of the city, and served as both president and as a member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

From 1927 to 1932 Mr. Reeve served the city as mayor. His administration saw the freedom of the city from the payment of interest on anticipation
warrants, and also the financial crash which carried away city funds in a bank failure. Three times of prosperity and of misfortune, Mayor Reeve maintained the same calm attitude
and sought always to do the best for the city.

Mr. Reeve was a Republican in politics and always deeply interested in party affairs. His counsel was sought by many, and in all of his relations with his fellow citizens he displayed a wisdom born of years of experience in the world of practical affairs.

Jacksonville has lost a valued citizen. The death of Mr. Reeve came as a shock to his many friends. Only a few moments before his death, he had been talking with several friends on his way to his office. He was a man the city could ill afford to lose
and his place in the community will be most difficult to fill, if, indeed, it can ever be filled.

Digging Worth While

Said a recent speaker in this city,
"There was plenty of gold in the Yukon, but men had to dig for it."

Down in Calhoun county two men
follow the occupation of digging up clams. They sell the shells to a button factory at $14 a ton. It's slow digging, and there isn't much in it.
But the other day each of the men dug up a clam with a pearl in it. They sold the two pearls for $115, good wages for clam diggers—while they last.

These men will dig clams hereafter with eyes peeled for pearls. They will dig in hope, with the knowledge that there are pearls to be found in clamshells in Calhoun county. Digging for a living may be all right, but there is a real satisfaction in digging for a bonus.

We all have to do more or less digging. Maybe we get a bonus, and maybe we don't, but we do know
there is a certain amount of routine
work to do if we are to have bread and butter. Jam and jam we will take,
but bread and butter we must have.
And we must dig to get that much.

We can all find some pearls in our digging, if we are looking for them.
Those clamdiggers recognized pearls
when they saw them, and they knew what to do. It is unfortunate that many of us do not recognize the pearls we find in life. If we did we would be a lot happier. The digging
we must do would not be so burdensome, and we would have more hope.
After all, hope, the mainspring that drives our lives forward, and an occasional pearl is a tonic for hope.

Another "Con Con"

In November the citizens of Illinois
will be asked to vote on whether or not they want to call another constitutional convention. Some people believe the Constitution of 1870 needs
radical changing, especially in its revenue provisions. Amendment seems to be out of the question, and there is nothing to do but to make a new supreme law for the state.

But many will remember the experience the state had with a previous "con con." The delegates were in session for months at great expense to the taxpayers. When they finished their job, they had printed thousands
of copies of the convention product,
a new constitution, and these were distributed, broadcast over the state.

Then came a campaign to have the constitution adopted by the people.
Opposition arose, and it became evident that many interests had worked in the convention to insert their own
schemes into the proposed new law.
The people got the idea that pernicious powers had been at work, and that something inimical to the interest of the whole people was about to be put over on them.

The people went to the polls and delivered a smashing majority against the new constitution. All the time, effort and money put into the making of that document was wasted. Taxpayers of Illinois paid the bill and wondered how they had been taken in. No doubt the people will remember all this when they go to the polls.

Perhaps we need a new constitution; but if we are to have another convention, the people as a whole

must take more interest in it and see that they get what they want in that new constitution. The people might as well have what they want at the start, so they won't have to kick what they don't want into the discard.
That's a rather expensive process.

Ox Team Regulation

One of the most effective devices
for slowing up motor traffic is a team of oxen. This form of traffic regulation has been applied by the enterprising village of North Wil-braham, Mass. The village fathers have nothing against traffic lights,
but the state highway commission refused to allow their installation. So the council got two yoke of oxen equipped with drivers and roads, and put them to work parading back and forth on the highway when traffic
got heavy.

Any one who has never seen an ox in action may not get the principle of the thing, in all its grandeur,
at first thought. What a horse
team on the road is now to a motorist, an ox team used to be to the horse driver. From which fact it may be imagined what oxen are to motorists. A horse at least keeps on stepping along as if in his own ward way, he sort of knows what he is doing. But an ox, after taking a step, always seems to pause and think for a while whether it's going to be worth while to take another step.

In that fact, lies danger to the oxen. Some time, between steps, some impatient truck driver is going
to knock those oxen galley west.
A mere automobilist wouldn't dare.

A Lower Motor Tax Pays

From the San Francisco Chronicle.
Tax gatherers in all branches may well take heed of the experience that various states have had with motor car taxes. Oregon has substituted a flat $5 registration fee for the sliding scale that ranged from $.10 to $.50 according to weight.

Nevada has put in a $5 registration
instead of 30 cents a hundredweight,
the minimum being 1,700 pounds.
Utah has reduced the charge, based on horsepower. And a survey of the country shows that in more than one-third of the states there has been a reduction.

This has not been done out of mercy to the motorists, or because
the states found too much revenue.
It has been done as a means of raising more, not less money.

Most, if not all of the states now have gasoline taxes and these are easier and more certain producers
of revenue than any registration fee. California's low registration fee, has encouraged the use of motor cars and has helped produce the millions that have kept the highway program going.

The gasoline tax is paid a few pennies at a time. The registration fee comes without a wallop that,
where it is large, makes many an owner of an old car lay it up. This reduces the sale of gasoline, loses
the sales tax upon it and reduces taxable resources of producers or distributors.

The lesson for tax gatherers is that in any field there is a limit beyond which there is vast difference between laying a tax and getting the revenue.

SO THEY SAY!

Bill Smith of England is a very different person from August Schmidt
of Germany. He won't let anybody walk over him, either in peace or in war.

erston.

ernment is the best government.

Buy Right-of-way
for More Pavement

County officials are now engaged in buying right-of-way for the "middle section" of the new hard road between Jacksonville and Waverly on Route 104. It is expected that all of the dedications will be signed up
within the next three weeks.

The route cuts through a corner of the Franklin cemetery and it will be necessary to secure official permission from the board of trustees for the use of this strip of property.

The middle section of the highway is about 6 miles in length, extending from the east limits of Franklin to Woodland crossing near Pisgah. Slab is now being laid between Jackso-ville and Woodland crossing, and the right-of-way for the section near Waverly already has been secured.

The New Deal
in Washington

Riefler Says Depression Is Ending; That Settles It...
NRA Official Wins Hand of Mrs. Bertrand Russell...
It's Puzzle What Army Is
For... Another Horrible
Red "Expose."

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent.

Washington, June 5.—The last word
here on industrial recovery is Mr.
Winfield S. Riefler.

The blond, stocky, genial Mr. Riefler is referred to by Roosevelt as his own personal "interpreting economist." He also is economic adviser to the Executive Council and chairman of the Central Statistical Board,
which makes an unprecedented effort
to keep track of what is happening to us economically, just as there'll be no doubt about it.

Perhaps you never heard of Riefler.
That's because his outstanding characteristic is silence. He's a nice fellow, with a swell wife, a couple of boys, and a home in the country.

But he talks only to the president,
the EC, the NEC and such other officials in the East on planning his down.
He never spoke publicly during the Hoover administration, either, but everybody knew that he knew more than anybody else and that's why he was made such an important person
in the New Deal.

So when Senator Wagner asked him the other day whether he really thought we were emerging from the depression, Riefler's reply took on some importance.

"Yes," he said.
"Consumption goods industries are in very good condition, running at a rate fairly well in balance with the market. The automobile industry has emerged from the depression. That is,
it has come back into the area of revived economic life."

"The big dead areas are the rest of the heavy industries, particularly concentrated on those where people
find their normal occupations either
in providing expanded capital facilities, office or plant equipment and new residences, or those which are occupied normally with repair and maintenance of our existing huge capital
equipment."

"The next logical point of attack is the development of that demand, which is large. It is the remaining problem of emergence
from the depression."

There is more movement in the field than there was last year. All the indexes of the heavy industries are advancing. They are still terribly low. They have more than kept pace with others in percentage advance.

"The trouble is that they have dropped to almost negligible levels.
Whereas in the textile, food, clothing, and leather industries the drop from boom times to depression was only 20, 25 or 30 per cent, in the case
of heavy industry it was 50, 60, 70
and 80 per cent. In the case of residential construction, it was 90 per cent."

"Aside from construction itself, the heavy industries have been coming back quite rapidly."

Riefler sees the administration's housing program as a strong attack

Wins Mrs. Russell

Mrs. Dora Russell's divorce suit against Bertrand Russell, the breakup of two world-famous experts on the problem of how to be happy and free though married, was especially interesting to a few folks here.

Mrs. Russell will marry a gray-haired young man who has been working in the NRA.
The young man has just left for England on a leave of absence.

What's the Army For?

All in the same day, Washington newspapers reported: 1. Roosevelt embargoes arms to warring Paraguay and Bolivia. 2. Our Nonnan Davis at Geneva offers naval reduction and an international agreement to control munitions. 3. Hercules Powder Co. declares extra dividend. 4. Secretary of War Dern asks increase of army from 118,000 to 120,000 men. 5. Guard doubled on Panama Canal.

Dern, however, drew the big laugh.
Explaining that he hadn't consulted
the president lest he embarrass budget plans, Dern told a committee that the army had three purposes: "National defense, training of civilians,
and acting in emergency in case of invasion."

Facetious argument rages as to whether the army has one, two, or three purposes.

WILL ROGERS
says:
To the Editor of the Journal and Courier:

Hollywood, Calif., June 5.—A sad
notice from Vice-President O'Hara
tells me of the death of a good friend,
Father O'Donnell of the great Notre Dame University, what a fine, plain,
human man, what Rockne did with him when they got those football suits
on, this man did with him while they were off the field. And turned out many "All Americans" in the game of life.

Some good news in the papers however, it rained in the middle west,
farmers are learning that the relief
they get from the sky, beats what they get from Washington.

WHO'S AFRAID OF THE BIG BAD LEOPARD?

THEY KNOW ALL ABOUT HIM—These three small boys grab his teeth, hold his nose and heap other indignities upon his person—and all he can do is grin and bear it.
While he is "animated" he is harmless. This gigantic leopard is one of the units in the Standard Oil Company's Live Power parade, due to show its big animated animal replicas in this city this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, remaining here over night.

White Hall Woman
Attains Age 97 Years

White Hall, June 5.—Mrs. E. V.
Duncan will be 97 years of age on Thursday, June 7, and open house will be held at her home on Carrollton street Thursday afternoon and evening in her honor. Her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Smith of Belton, Texas,
and her grandson, Bryon Smith of East St. Louis came Sunday for a visit. Mr. Smith returned home the same day but Mrs. Minnie Smith will remain for several weeks with her mother and sisters.

Mrs. Duncan is very well though frail and enjoys her friends, her family and home. She is especially fond of flowers and enjoys working with them. Three of her daughters reside with her. They are Misses Laura, Emma and Bird Duncan, and another daughter, Mrs. Edward Silkwood lives nearby. Besides them and Mrs. Smith,
she has another daughter, Mrs. Clyde Springgate of Oshkosh, Wisconsin.
She was the mother of nine daughters. Four of her daughters, Emma,
Ella, Laura and Marie formed a quarter and made numerous tours in concert work. After the death of Markie, Miss Bird Duncan took her place. The Duncan Sisters Quartet has been popular at public entertainments and especially so for funerals of late years.

Mrs. Duncan has many interesting experiences and one enjoys hearing
her tell them in her humorous way.
Her maiden name was Elizabeth Virginia Kitzmiller. She was born June 7, 1837 in Fordtown, Sullivan county,
Tennessee. She married Thomas
Duncan when she was nineteen years old and they came to Illinois with a party of thirty-two immigrants,
traveling with carriages, bugles and covered wagons.

Commencement Guests Leave

Mrs. Edith Browning, Mrs. Paul
Callender and two children, Daley
and Floe Inez of Lincoln, returned to their homes Sunday after spending a week here in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tatman, and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ralston in Patterson.
They came to attend the White Hall
commencement and while they were here Lowell Ray, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralston, died of diphtheria. They received a serum treatment before going home. Darrell Tatman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tatman also took the serum, and then accompanied them to Lincoln for a visit.

Miss Nellie Steelman who taught in the first grade of the White Hall schools, has gone to St. Louis, where she will be in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sherwin for a few days and then enter St. Mary's hospital for an operation. This will be the second time that Miss Steelman has undergone a serious operation.

Mrs. Lizzie Gillingham who has been doing nursing duty in Carrollton is here at her own home for a short rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus McColister
and family drove to Decatur and spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. L. O.
Frech. Janice Frech accompanied them home and will spend the summer with her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Frech on North Main street.

Water Supply Adequate

Glen Vanderer, water superintendent, stated Sunday evening that White Hall is in no danger of a water shortage, although we have had very little rainfall this year. White Hall's water supply comes from a large artificial lake or reservoir a half mile east of the city limits, and is pumped
into a large water tower in the city,
after having been filtered at the station located at the south end of the reservoir. The body of water covers a large acreage, 35 acres and had a large water shed, and is many feet, (twenty to thirty-five feet) deep in places and along the channel.

Mr. Vandever stated that water was lowered five inches within the last two weeks, and that the water is now fifty-nine inches below the spill-
way. The reservoir was built in 1900 and twice since that time the dam
was enlarged and raised for the past ten years there has been no danger of a shortage.

Mr. Vandever is also co-operative weather observer for White Hall, and he said that the average rainfall for this locality is 36 inches, plus and that up to the first of June there had been only five inches plus. There was only 37 hundredths of an inch of rainfall
in May, which was the driest
May since the weather records have been kept. While showers have been reported in sections all around White Hall, there have been none here up to late Sunday night. Gardens, possibilities, and all vegetation is suffering badly. Many wells and cisterns are dry and farmers are selling stock or hauling water for them.

Clubs Will Study
Federal Agencies

Local chairmen of the Federated Women's clubs have received suggestions for topics to be used on programs. These have been sent by the state chairman of Education, Mrs. C.
H. Bradshaw and the clubs are advising to either study the subjects formally or to procure speakers of authority who will discuss them at the meetings.

Mrs. Bradshaw stresses the fact the initials used in the various projects
of the government have lost their significance to many and that the following explanation is instructive
and necessary for clear understanding of governmental issues.

HARMONY CLUB
PLANS MEETING
FOR NEXT WEEK

Centerville, June 4.—The Harmony Community club is sponsoring a Homecoming as a feature for its next meeting which is June 8. All former teachers, pupils and residents of the Harmony school district are invited to attend. A basket supper, between six and seven o'clock, will be the first means of entertainment. After supper a variety program will be presented including music by Leonard Long and his orchestra and it is hoped the Woods Brothers Harmony Four will be able to attend and appear in the program, inasmuch as the Woods family were residents of the Harmony district many years; also County Superintendent H. H. Vasconcellos, who has been such a good friend to the school and has many friends here, and other various features will be arranged for, and it is hoped that everyone who gets the word will make a special effort to attend.

Mrs. Otis Stewart planned a surprise for her husband Sunday, June 27, in honor of his birthday anniversary which occurred on Monday. About 100 relatives and friends enjoyed the basket dinner which was served cafeteria style on the lawn at noon. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in a social way.

A play party was staged at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Roulund for the young people of the community last Tuesday evening. A large crowd was spent and enjoyed a pleasant evening of fun making.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stillwell entertained the Centerville Four H club group at their home last Friday evening. Games were played and refreshments of ice cream, cake and cookies were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Heye Martin and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed McCready, in the Appalonia neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Harney and children were also spending the day there.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Skelton and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. Heye Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miner and sons, Wayne and Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Stewart and daughters, Verna and Gladys, Wm. Rynders, Mrs. Nancy Rynders and Mrs. August Roulund were shoppers in Jacksonville from this precinct last Thursday.

Teachers as reported who have been hired for the four schools in this precinct are as follows: Harmony, District No. 3, Mrs. Mae Sappington; Gourdneck, Miss Jean McDevitt; West Union, Miss Aileen Reed; and West Point, Mrs. Emily Lou Eldridge.

As a last reminder to the folks who have taught, attended school or lived in Harmony school district, remember the date of the Homecoming in the evening of June 8. Pack your basket, including table service, and come or have a friend bring you, but be there to meet old acquaintances and get acquainted with new ones.

Miss Genevieve Crum was out from Jacksonville and spent Decoration Day with home folks. Mrs. Heye Martin and daughters, Misses Mary, Ruby, Nellie Fay, and Mildred Farmer and Ethel and Kate Austiff and Gene Farmer attended the graduation exercises of the senior class of the Waverly High school last Thursday night.

Down where they grow
tobacco..in most places Chesterfield
is the largest-selling cigarette

—what does that mean?

—it takes good things to make good things.

—the mild ripe tobaccos we buy for Chesterfield mean milder
better taste.

—the way they are made
means Chesterfields burn right
and smoke cool.

—it means that down where they grow tobacco folks know that mild ripe tobaccos are bought for Chesterfield.

And because Chesterfields are made of the right kinds of tobacco, it is a milder cigarette,
a cigarette that tastes better.

There is no substitute for mild,

GIANTS WAYLAW BRAVES 13 TO 4

New York, June 5.—(P)—The Giants bunched their hits in three lucrative innings, piling up three runs each in the third, fifth and sixth frames to defeat the Boston Braves, 13 to 3, today.

Home runs by Travis Jackson, Hubert Critz and Mel Ott were included in New York's total of 16 hits and all but two of those blows helped to score runs. Hal Schumacher was a bit wobbly at the start and embarrassed by four Giant errors but managed to gain his sixth victory of the season through his mates' hard hitting.

Franklin was represented in Jacksonville yesterday by Mrs. Sarah Baldridge.

PURCHASE PITCHER

St. Louis, June 5.—(P)—Jim Lindsey, who did some fancy relief pitching for the Cardinals in their recent victories of 1930 and 1931, was purchased today from the St. Paul club of the American Association. Secretary Clarence Lloyd of the Cardinals announced.

Lindsey, a right-hander, started the 1934 campaign with the Cincinnati Reds, but recently was sent to St. Paul.

RED SOX WALLOP YANKEES 8 TO 3

Boston, June 5.—(P)—Wesley Ferrell, former ace of Cleveland's mound staff, turned in his first victory for the Red Sox today in a brilliant exhibition of relief pitching that enabled Boston to defeat the New York Yankees, 8 to 3.

Ferrell relieved Gordon (Dusty) Rhodes in the fourth after wildness forced the former Yankee out of action and allowed only two hits in the last 5-2-3 innings. Both of them came in the ninth when the Sox had the game safely tucked away.

Russell Van Atta, the Yankees' star southpaw of 1933, made his sixth start of the season and was batted out for the sixth time. Danny MacFayden gave the Sox only one hit after he took the hill in the fifth.

LEGION JUNIORS DEFEAT PICK-UPS

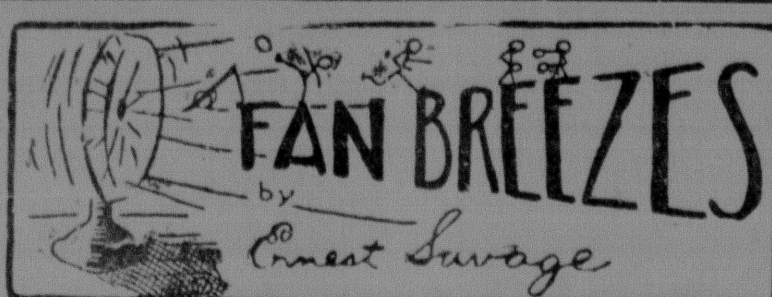

With two down in the sixth inning, Donald Ranson slammed out his second double against a team of pick-ups at the high school athletic field last night to drive in two runs, giving the American Legion Juniors a 13-11 victory. The Legion team was scheduled to meet another of the teams in the Y.M.C.A. league opener, but their opponents failed to put in appearance.

Isaacs, Legion player, featured the hitting with a home run, while Ranson chalked up three hits out of three times to the plate, two of them doubles.

Action of the Illinois High School Athletic Association in forcing a new age limit down the throats of the Illinois School for the Deaf, appears to us to be a bit discriminatory. Admitting that perhaps the deaf teams have been a bit older on the average than teams from other high schools, just how far have the Tigers gone?

The fact that the I. S. D. football teams have been tough to beat, that their basketball teams are strong, and that their track and field teams have won the district title for the past two years indicates on one hand that they are strong teams, and on the other that something a bit more than age is involved.

This column would rather credit the strength of the I. S. D. teams to the remarkable competitive spirit Coach S. Robey Burns has developed. The Tiger teams in football are exceptional only for one reason—they block well. Their basketball teams haven't been able to do much during the past two years, and they have yet to win a sectional tournament. What the track team has done so well we would attribute to the deep individual competition and the rigorous training of the Tiger athletes are willing to accept.

It would seem to us that the I. S. A. A. has lowered its standard some what in trying to drag the Tigers down. It would also seem to us that a better method would have been to hold the Tigers up as one of the working diagrams of what other schools should be.

Just for fun, we're going to forecast that the mere changing of the I. S. D. age limit for athletes will not have much effect on the athletic teams. They'll go right ahead and win a lot of ball games, and be just as large a thorn as they always have been.

BEGIN SWIMMING LESSONS AT PARK POOL THIS WEEK

Classes Will Meet Three Times a Week—Life Saving Classes to be Held Twice Each Week Under Qualified Examiner.

Free swimming lessons will be offered to persons interested in that type of recreation beginning immediately, Wilson Vorbeck, manager of the Nichols Park bath house announced yesterday. Classes for beginning swimmers will be held three times weekly, and classes for persons seeking either junior or senior Red Cross life saving badges will be held twice weekly.

Approximately 50 people attended the course in swimming offered last year, and a like number are expected to enroll this year. The remainder of the week will be spent in enrolling students and the first lessons will be given at the end of the week.

Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 10 a. m. until noon have been set aside for beginning classes in swimming. Other pool patrons will be welcomed at this time also. Wilson Vorbeck and Miss Eloise Chumley will have charge of the instruction of the beginners.

Classes for persons seeking the junior and senior life saving badges will be held Tuesday and Thursday mornings at the same hour as the beginning classes. This course was offered last year and attracted a number of students, several of whom obtained their insignia. Wilson Vorbeck, who is a qualified life guard examiner for the Red Cross, will have charge of the course, and will give the examinations for badges.

CARD PRACTICE GAMES IN CITY TWILIGHT LOOP

Indies and Red & White to Meet Tonight on Nichols Park Diamond—Myers Brothers and Fox Theaters Thursday Night.

Two practice games in the Nichols Park Twilight League will be played this week, the Jacksonville Indies meeting the Red & White Grocers tonight at 5:30 o'clock, and the Fox Theaters and Myers Brothers teams meeting the following night at the same time. Games are scheduled to go seven innings if possible.

Following the practice rounds the managers will get together to work out a schedule for league play this summer. At a meeting held recently it was decided to throw the games open, free to the public, and for each team to play twice a week. The regular schedule is slated to get underway by next week if possible.

The Nichols Park diamond also will be in use Thursday afternoon at three o'clock when Ray Lynn will take his Legion Juniors to the lot for a practice game. The Legion lads will meet Nokomis here this Saturday afternoon, and will go to Mason City Sunday for a game with the Mason City Juniors. The Legion club will meet the Galesburg district champions of last year here before the convention crowd Saturday, June 16.

ALLISON WINS

Hartford, Conn., June 5.—(P)—William Allison, rangy blonde Texan, began his campaign for the New England tennis championship today with two victories which carried him to the third round. He defeated both E. B. Brown of Hartford and Dick Martini, Worcester, Mass., by 6-4, 6-0.

J. Gilbert Hall, defending champion, entered the third round with a 6-3, 6-3 defeat of Eggle Miles, Yale.

Canton high school has decided to dispense with the services of its coach for the past year, a lad by the name of Grougase. It has been intimated in other newspapers that his failure to win a sectional crown this year cost him his job.

Pleasant Hill high school has narrowed down the field of prospective coaches to take the place left vacant by Coach C. F. Hubble, who goes to Greenfield next fall, to three men. A decision of the board is expected soon.

Another rumor current last week was that Floyd Newkirk, former Illinois College hurler who turned in five victories in as many games for the Newark Bears, was to be recalled by the New York Yankees. Newkirk, apparently, had his usual tough luck at the start of the season, but has come out of the trouble in fine shape.

Eugene Karst, public relations director of the St. Louis Cardinals, was a visitor in this city recently. While here, he stopped at this office and left a packet of Cardinals suitable for sticking on glass windshields and doors, which may be had for the asking by getting in touch with the author of this strip.

Mark Peterman, Springfield high's athletic director, has joined up with a traveling Springfield soft ball team for the summer. His initial effort at Bloomington was not so encouraging, in that he lost the game, but nevertheless, he's a soft ball fighter.

Louis Boudreau, Thornton high's scintillating basketball player who created a lot of talk at the I.H.S.A.A. championships this spring is a bang-up third baseman, we hear. He is leading the Harvey team in hitting, along with his stellar play on the hot corner.

ST. PAUL CLUB MAY GO TO PEORIA

Milwaukee, June 5.—(P)—The Wisconsin News today said that negotiations for the transfer of the St. Paul baseball club to Peoria, Ill., or Gary, Ind., are being considered by Bob Connery, one of the owners of the club, and T. J. Hickey, president of the American Association.

The newspaper quoted Connery as saying the Peoria offer came in telegrams from the Association of Commerce there and from H. R. Scranton, president of the Peoria ball club and that he and Hickey expect to confer in Chicago tomorrow with representatives of the Peoria interests.

Connery, the newspaper said, declared the paid attendance at St. Paul thus far this season has been only 20,000 and that the three other stockholders in the club have authorized him to "carry on negotiations for relief."

NORTH CENTRAL SLUGGER TAKES LITTLE 19 TITLE

Kenneth Woods and Jim Winn Lead Illinois College in Batting For Year. DeKalb Hitter Takes Second Place.

Robert Young, North Central second baseman, is the Illinois conference batting champion for 1934 with an average of .536, averages released here Monday show. Young collected 15 hits in 28 trips to the plate and is almost 100 points above the runnerup, Eugene Kyles, DeKalb Teachers' pitcher, who has a mark of .456. Kyles gathered 10 hits in 22 appearances.

Allan Russell, Millikin captain and first baseman, is third among the leading batters with a mark of .430. He has hit safely 17 times in 39 times at bat.

Lucas Drops to Eighth.
George Lucas, Monmouth outfielder, in fourth place a week ago, was the only player in the conference who had a chance to wrest batting honors from Young, because the schedules of other schools had ended, but his hitting fell off in the final week which closed Saturday, and he dropped into eighth in the final tabulations.

Fred Landa, North Central catcher, took fourth with a mark of .419, and Joe Bergdahl of Chicago, Illinois Wesleyan captain and first baseman, who made more hits than any other player in the conference, .419, and was at bat more times than any other player, 53, took fifth with an average of .416.

Bill Spiegler, center fielder, the third of the heavy hitting trio from North Central, won sixth place with a mark of .400.

Six Exceed 400 Mark.
Six players in the conference batted 400 or better. Twenty hit at a better than .320 clip.

Jim Winn, Illinois College first sacker, who was the league batting champion in 1933 with a mark of .539, ended the 1934 season in 15th place with a mark of .351.

ROGERS HORNSBY "MIRACLE MAN"

By Paul Mickelson.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Chicago, June 5.—(P)—Rogers Hornsby, baseball's latest "Miracle Man," was scrapping off his chin whiskers like any one else in his hotel room today when he was asked just what he had been feeding his starling St. Louis Browns.

"So they're calling me the 'Miracle Man' now huh," he chuckled as he slid the razor over his bronzed face. "Well, it's okay with me. I don't care what they call me as long as they call me something. Sure, we're going good, but I don't know how good these players of mine are going to be or how bad they'll be later. We may fold up like a suitcase, maybe we'll do even better, but we won't finish in the American League cellar."

The man who was considered through with big time baseball a year ago before he was paged by the late Phil Ball to take over the Brownie weaklings was called to the telephone six times to talk to friends before he could resume.

"Rollie Hemley has been a surprise to a lot of people, but not to me. I always said he had more natural talent than any catcher in baseball. All that's happened to Hemley is that he decided to take baseball more seriously and cut out some of his midnight and early morning parties. He's hitting over his head probably, but I think he'll clinch his rightful honor as a recognized great catcher before the season ends."

"I've got a lot of Hemleys on this club. Every player is hustling and every player, regardless of his past record, believes he can star. That's what makes a good club. If we could dig up another good left hander, we'd be pretty tough."

The Rajah still believes Washington and New York are the clubs to beat out for the American League flag.

"Although we have had rather easy sailing against the Senators," he said, "they looked better than other clubs we have met. They haven't been getting the pitching, but they're sure to get it soon. The Yankees also must have pitching. Cleveland looks good. Detroit might win the pennant with some help in the outfield. Boston should improve. It takes time for a team to get a flock of stars together and whip them into a well-co-ordinated ball club. Philadelphia has the best young team in the league except for uncertain pitching. Lot of power and class on that team. The White Sox aren't nearly as bad as they look. With one good, reliable pitcher added to their staff, they would make it tough on all of us. My guess is that it will take about 90 games to win the flag."

Among the Franklin shoppers here yesterday was Mrs. William Reeves.

Thomas Mudd of Scottville was a business caller in the city Tuesday.

Paul Dean Pitches Splendid Baseball and Cardinals Take Game From Chicago Cubs

St. Louis, June 5.—(P)—The sturdy right arm of Paul Dean today earned a sixth consecutive victory for his owner and gave the Cardinals a 6 to 3 decision over the Chicago Cubs.

Dean, younger brother of the talkative "Dizzy" permitted Babe Herman and Jurgas a home run each. The two homers accounted for all Chicago runs. Otherwise Dean was a successful puzzle to the Cubs and permitted only seven hits.

The Cards, paced by Collins, who slammed his tenth circuit clout of the season on the roof of the right field pavilion in the fourth, hammered Lon Warneke for four innings.

He vanished in the fifth after Pinchhitter Galan struckout for him in that inning.

The Cardinals' victory kept them on top of competitive National League teams with an average of .628. The Giants took undisputed second place by virtue of their 13 to 4 victory over Boston. The Cubs dropped to third.

PHILLIES BEAT DODGERS TWICE

Philadelphia, June 5.—(P)—The Phillies pulled out a pair of last minute decisions over the Brooklyn Dodgers through home runs today, winning a double header by scores of 11 to 10 and 4 to 4.

In the first tilt, a 30-hit slugfest, Bud Clancy celebrated his debut as a Philly before the home fans by swatting a homer with two on base and two out in the ninth to win. In the second Ray Benge held the Phils to three hits in the first seven innings only to see them win in the eighth when Ethan Allen's circuit clout with two aboard climaxed a five-run rally.

Ralph Boyle, Brooklyn outfielder, carried his consecutive game hitting streak through 25 contests in the opener, then saw it ended when he fanned on his only time at bat in the nightcap.

Thomas W. Nisbet's Funeral Conducted in California Town

In the presence of many friends who gathered to pay final tribute to one who held in high esteem impressive funeral services for Thomas W. Nisbet were held May 28 in the Upland, Calif., Presbyterian church, of which he had been an active member for many years.

Dr. R. C. Stone, pastor of the church, conducted the service, with Rev. J. A. McGaughey, retired Presbyterian minister of Monrovia, and a cousin of Mr. Nisbet, offering prayer. Dr. Merton E. Hill, former principal of Chaffey High school and junior college, with whom Mr. Nisbet worked faithfully and effectively for many years as school trustee, read the obituary.

Interment took place in Bellevue cemetery.

Mr. Nisbet was well known in Cass and Morgan counties and has numerous relatives in these counties. He was a graduate of Illinois College with the class of 1886.

The following obituary appeared in the Upland News:

Thomas Walker Nisbet, the son of Thomas James and Lucilla Walker Nisbet, was born at Providence, Cass county, Illinois, on the 2nd of November, 1863. His childhood and boyhood were spent on the old home farm where he was born. At the age of 15 he moved with his family to the nearby town of Virginia.

Graduated From I. C.

He attended the Virginia high school and in September, 1881, entered Illinois College at Jacksonville and received his degree in June, 1886. Soon after graduation he accepted a position with the Farmers' National Bank of Virginia, Ill., and he held this position for 10 years, when he moved back to the old home farm.

In the year 1890 Mr. Nisbet married Miss Clara McHenry, and to them were born four children: Dr. Thomas Walker, Jr., who on September 20, 1930, married Miss Melville Bennett of Chapman, Ala.; John McHenry, who on December 25, 1924, married Miss Mary Martin of Evansville, Ind.; Eugene Goodspeed and Clara Lou. Mr. Nisbet is also survived by two grandchildren, John McHenry Nisbet, Jr., and Mary Martin Nisbet.

Thomas Walker Nisbet came from a long line of ancestors who carried Presbyterianism from Scotland westward. His maternal grandfather was Father Rice of Kentucky. His grandfather did not believe in slavery, trained and educated his slaves after freeing them and sent them as missionaries to Liberia. He later moved to Illinois and established the Providence church and schoolhouse were built on land donated by Grandmother Elizabeth Denny Nisbet; two acres were set apart for a public school and two acres for the church and burying ground.

Providence was Mr. Nisbet's first church home. When 29 years old he was ordained a ruling elder. After returning to the home farm he was instrumental in reviving the old church and the family worshipped there for some years. He was interested not only in church work but in community affairs and was a school director in the Providence school district, always serving in the best interests of his community.

In 1907 the Nisbet family moved to their present home in Upland. The fellow citizens of Mr. Nisbet soon learned that he was the sort of man to be trusted with his community's affairs. For more than a quarter of a century he has been active in civic affairs. He has served the San Antonio Water company in an advisory capacity; he has been a member of the Fumigation company board; he served from the beginning on the hospital board; he has always been active in the advancement of the interests of the church. For about 15 years he was active in promoting the interests of the San Bernardino county Y.M.C.A. First as vice-president, later as president he left through his leadership a permanent service for it will appear for years to come in the lives of young men whom he helped. From the beginning of the organization of the Chaffey Union high school district he was active in promoting the best interests of the Chaffey schools. After having been appointed to fill a vacancy on the Chaffey board he was elected by his fellow citizens for seven consecutive terms; he has been vice-president and president of the board of trustees and was chairman of the citrus committee from the beginning. He has been active in every phase of the development of the Chaffey institutions and in every instance through the years acted in the interests of the young people and of their parents.

Mr. Nisbet was what should be regarded as a truly successful man. He was a Christian of the best type. He was a man of sound judgment; his advice was always sought and it was as freely given. He was a man of action and possessed unusual ability to carry on what he undertook. He has been recognized by all who knew him as a gentleman of honor, of integrity, and of loyalty to his home to his country, and to his God.

Local Man Head of Committee on Trip

Charles M. Strawn, local Hudson-Essex dealer, has been selected chairman of the entertainment committee on an educational and pleasure trip being planned by the Springfield Auto Supply Co. for some 200 of its dealers in central Illinois. A large group of auto dealers and garage men from this city are planning to take the trip.

The delegation will start from Springfield at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and arrive in Chicago in time for dinner at the Stevens hotel. The group will then visit the world's fair until midnight, when the travelers leave for Detroit, to arrive in the nation's automobile capital in time for breakfast.

Monday will be spent in visiting many plants and factories. During the morning the group will visit various firms, including accessory plants, steel foundries and glass factories. At noon the dealers will lunch at the Ford Motor Co., and in the afternoon will tour the Ford plants. They will next visit Mr. Ford's American village.

The last stage of the trip will be a visit to Canada. The party will reach the British shores by way of the Windsor tunnel, and will have dinner Monday evening at the Palmer-Norton hotel in Windsor, to be followed by entertainment. The dealers will return to their Illinois homes Tuesday morning.

Mr. Strawn was enthusiastic Tuesday in outlining the trip. He says there will be plenty of entertainment, and that the visitors will show those Canadians how to put on a real good time. William Ryan, manager of the local branch office of the Springfield firm, will be in the party.

T. N. Bush of Murrayville was a caller in the city Tuesday.

A DOLLAR AND A HALF WORTH OF OIL PROTECTED THIS MOTOR FOR OVER FOUR THOUSAND MILES!

Low Consumption and Motor Protection Proved in the Most Daring Motor Oil Test Ever Made!

WHEN New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil was perfected, it had lubrication values so great that a mere statement of them WOULD SEEM ABSURD.

We arranged with the Contest Board, American Automobile Association, to test five widely-known and advertised motor oils along with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil in a daring "Destruction" Test, to PROVE its superiority. These six oils, a single fill of five quarts, with no more oil added, in six brand new strictly stock cars, were driven until the motor in each car was destroyed from lack of lubrication.

The first oil failed at 1,713.2 miles . . . others failed in rapid succession. The best of the competing oils ran a total of 3,318.8 miles . . . while New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil lubricated its motor for a total of 4,729 miles! . . . more than 3,000 miles farther than the first oil to fail . . . and more than 1,400 miles farther than the second best oil. A marvellous record!

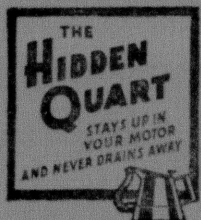

You can and should have this oil in your car. It costs no more than other quality oils—at the Sign of the Red Triangle.

The official sealing of crankcases after fill test. They were wrecked to prove that no oil was put in. No addition of oil was permitted in this "destruction" test.

These were new motors before the test. They were wrecked to prove to you how to protect yours.

Every Day this Salesman Knocks at 9,000 Doors★

... and ALWAYS Finds Somebody Home

IT'S putting it mild to say that the Daily Journal and Courier are welcome salesmen. If either ever fails to show up at a front door our circulation department gets a hasty phone call. Yet the Daily Journal and Courier do not try, ahead of everything else, to be salesmen. Their main purpose in life is to inform and entertain, as any well-written, well-edited newspaper should do. Meeting readers on their own terms, it lets them sell themselves—the secret of good salesmanship the world over.

That's why the Daily Journal and Courier are "business visitors" that are accepted socially by most any family when it is in a social mood. They interview each buying member of the household when the sales-resistance bars are down. They are accepted by them all as old family friends. Which isn't hard to understand. For the Daily Journal and Courier bear the stamp of reliability. Readers depend on them—from Mother with her problems down to Junior who mixes sports with his comics.

They are believed.
And they will sell more merchandise for you for that reason alone.

SHOCK CAUSES DEATH

The woman, with a party of friends, was wading in the river when she stepped off of a sand bar and into the deep water. She fought off rescuers for several minutes and when they finally reached shore with her she was dead.

the party's deficit is $206,000, a roll call brought pledges of contributions to wipe it out and put the party in the black.

Illinois Republican leaders put in $20,000, Pennsylvania matched it, and New York added $15,000. The party ended the session with about $19,000 for a war chest, Getz said. He declined to make public the full list of contributions, but said the money had been raised in fifteen minutes. As the hotel conferences took over views regarding the chairmanship after the committee's adjournment until 10 a. m. Wednesday, two candidates led the field for the post by general but unofficial agreement. They were Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, formerly ambassador to Italy; and Walter S. Hallanan of West Virginia, a young Republican leader on the National Committee only since 1928.

Fletcher, with Harrison E. Spangler, Iowa national committeeman, as a possible alternative, was generally considered the choice of the "Hoover men," led by former Postmaster General Walter Brown of Ohio and former Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills of New York.

Hallanan also had eastern backers, gossip giving him the support of Hilles. He was also supported by a large group of middlewestern and western committeemen, who believe the party's big task is to win back the farm vote and consider a western man most suitable.

Liquor Tax Revenue 25 Millions Monthly

Washington, June 5.—(P)—Half a year of appeal has found the drinkers of America putting away just about as much legal hard stuff as before prohibition.

But the taste for legal beer and ale is less than half the old-time average of 1,800,000,000 to 2,000,000,000 gallons a year.

Tax figures indicated the statistics do not reckon the bootleg supply, which officials have declared to be still enormous.

Repeal, six months old today, is paying the federal government taxes of around $25,000,000 monthly, or four to five million more than lower rates returned before prohibition.

Revised treasury tax figures indicate hard liquor withdrawn for consumption totaled about 8,500,000 gallons a month or 78,000,000 a year, should the rate be maintained. For ten years before prohibition the average consumption ranged from 64,500,000 to 96,000,000 gallons.

Beer consumption has been averaging 2,350,000 barrels a month, a rate likely to increase this summer. This would amount to 28,200,000 barrels a year, against a 1917 consumption of 60,790,000 barrels.

Open Probe of Nazi Propaganda Money

Washington, June 5.—(P)—A congressional inquiry was launched today to find out whether cash from Germany financed Nazi propaganda in America.

Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), chairman of a House committee, subpoenaed twenty-five witnesses for the opening hearing in a study of "subversive propaganda." Their identity has been kept secret.

It was learned that committee members expected witnesses to tell a number of stories. One is that a New York concern gets $6,000 a month from a Hitler government official for "services" and pays $1,000 cash each month to an American Nazi adherent—for "advice."

Another witness, it was said, will testify that a clergyman was handed $350 by a Nazi agent shortly after he wrote a pamphlet criticizing the Jews.

A similar investigation already has been made of the activities of the "silver shirts" and an American branch of the German "steel helmets." Committee members said more will be heard of these organizations.

I told him that he must approach the president through the usual channels.

Then he said that a Mr. Larson had consulted him, as the leading Scandinavian of Chicago, about my administration of the Sanders estate and that certain proceedings had been begun, which if carried through would make it impossible for me to continue as a member of the cabinet.

He said he had pleaded with Larson not to continue the proceedings, and that if he obtained the appointment as governor of the Virgin Islands I need not fear that anything would be done that would injure my reputation or my professional standing.

I told him that Larson could go to Hell and that I would not submit to blackmail.

STOCK MARKET MOVES FORWARD

By Frederick Gardner

 Associated Press Financial Writer
New York, June 5.—(P)—Stocks moved forward with commodities today as a general buying wave swept into speculative markets. Inflationary urges seemed at work in stirring dormant speculation into semblance of life again.

As the market stirred from its lethargy, sales on the stock exchange expanded to 741,160 shares, more than double yesterday's volume of 357,540, the record low price the past decade. Net gains of fractions to about three points were general among such issues as Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, J. I. Case, American Telephone, American Tobacco, B. Bohn Aluminum & Brass, Chrysler, General Motors, General Electric, Illinois Central, Delaware & Hudson, Nash Motors, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Rubber, Goodyear and U. S. Steel common.

The average price of 90 stocks rose 17 points to 77.1 in addition to an advance of more than a point in the preceding session. A wide break in the German Mark against the dollar revived rumors of devaluation of the mark. The British pound steadied after its sharp decline.

Metal shares led the resumption of the advance in stocks. American Smelting, U. S. Smelting, Dome Mines, McIntyre and other metals added fractions to more than a point to gains scored yesterday. Kennecott Copper advanced more than a point as directors declared a dividend of 15 cents a share, the first since January, 1932. Santa Fe common spurred more than 2 points with the declaration of a regular semi-annual dividend of $2.50 a share on the preferred, on which dividends were not fully paid last year.

WHEAT PRICES UP SIX CENTS

By John P. Boughan.

 Associated Press Market Editor.
Chicago, June 5.—(P)—Sensation-ally low estimates of United States 1934 spring wheat production did much to bring about nearly 6 cents sheer rise in wheat prices today.

The steel climb of the wheat market was from a transient early setback, and was associated with reports the Dakotas and Minnesota this season would yield only about 50,000,000 bushels of spring wheat, and that rains northwest had come too late to improve the crop outlook. It was also asserted that drought over the country as a whole had by no means yet been broken.

Announcement that the United States would buy 12,000,000 bushels of corn for relief purposes was also a stimulating factor, and so too were reports that the price of gold might be increased.

Wheat closed buoyant at virtually the day's top level, 31-44 cents above yesterday's finish, corn 21-24 up, oats 24-3 cents advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

Bottommost previous estimates of 1934 domestic spring wheat output for all states have been 100,000,000 bushels, so that estimates today of only 50,000,000 yield for three of the chief producing states were regarded as startling. Some of today's advances also were positive that in the Dakotas and Minnesota any rains hereafter would have no crop influence except to help restore pastures.

Indications of a renewal of high temperatures tended further to hoist wheat values.

Temporary downturns of wheat prices at the start were due in considerable degree to reports that drought in Canada was ended, and to unfavorable notice taken of House adoption of the commodity bill at Washington. Belief rapidly grew, however, that overnight moisture this side of the Canadian boundary had been of little if any benefit.

Friends of higher prices for wheat put a good deal of stress on official reports that prolonged dry weather throughout most of the important wheat producing countries of the northern hemisphere had brought about irreparable widespread damage, suggesting the shortest crop in recent years. The reports pointed out that it was seldom such extensive damage had occurred simultaneously in Europe and North America, and that in Germany the driest spring since 1870 had destroyed 25 per cent of the German wheat crop.

Corn displayed independent strength from the start, and scored a maximum gain of 34 cents. Oats hit the limit.

Provisions were governed chiefly by action of grains.

Jerseyville Man is Named as Candidate

Jerseyville, June 5.—William P. Richards, retired business man of Jerseyville, has been selected by the Republican Central Committee as their candidate for county judge at the general election in November, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Attorney M. L. Gibbons. The Republican party had no candidate for the judgeship in the primary but the name of Gibbons was written in a number of times, making him the party candidate in November. Gibbons withdrew from the candidacy last week because of his work with the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, he being auditor for Jersey County Emergency Relief.

The Republican committee was again in session Friday evening and at that time endorsed the candidacy of Richards. His opponent on the Democratic ticket will be the present incumbent, County Judge Fred W. Howell, who received the Democratic nomination in the April primary.

Storm Damage
Temporary relief from the intense heat was brought to Jerseyville Sunday afternoon when a rain and wind-storm of about thirty minutes duration visited the city. From all reports the storm was confined principally to the city proper where 7 of an inch of rain fell.

The storm came from the north and struck Jerseyville full force, extending east about one mile, south to the Greenwald corner, and west to the Hugh Small farm. The rain was most beneficial and the crops in the small

J. J. Reeve Dies Suddenly; Funeral Services to be Conducted Thursday

Death yesterday claimed John J. Reeve, 72 years of age, three times mayor of Jacksonville, city attorney, postmaster, and friend of the people. Suddenly, apparently without warning, it crept upon the prominent attorney as he sat at his desk in the Morrison Block, conversing with a friend, and touched his brow. Death, in the character of angina pectoris, with cerebral embolism accompanying, silently moved into Mr. Reeve's office at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning, while he was talking with Lloyd Hamilton, local business man. Death's first touch lowered the attorney's head to his desk, from which repeated calls by the local business man failed to raise. Mr. Hamilton called C. R. Grunz, associate with Mr. Reeve in legal practice, and as Mr. Grunz entered the office, the victim breathed his last.

Dr. Ellsworth Black, who was summoned immediately, pronounced the attorney dead after an examination. Mr. Grunz, in an attempt to preserve the life that might have lingered in Mr. Reeve's body, had loosened the shirt collar and bathed the attorney's forehead with cold water.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at four o'clock at the Grace Methodist church, with Dr. F. A. Havichurst, assisted by the Rev. Harry B. Lewis, of Stratton, in charge. Burial will be in Diamond Grove cemetery. The body will be returned to the late home at nine o'clock this morning and will remain there until 2:30 Thursday afternoon, when it will be removed to the church. The body will lie in state from three o'clock until time for the services.

Mr. Reeve, according to his legal friends and other friends about the city, often had expressed the desire to pass away in the midst of his activities. Only a few days ago he was talking in a light vein with State Representative Hugh Green about the span of life.

Coroner's Inquest
Testimony given at the coroner's inquest, conducted by Elmer O. Sample at the Reynolds Mortuary, where the body was prepared for burial, indicated that the only warning the attorney received that death would call him suddenly was seven years ago, when he was given a thorough examination by Dr. A. H. Dollard. The examination disclosed cardiac trouble, and the specialist from the Norbury Sanatorium testified that he presumed Mr. Reeve had been under treatment from the regular physician, Dr. Edward Bove, until Dr. Bove's recent retirement from active practice.

Mr. Reeve apparently was in good health, Lloyd Hamilton said at the inquest. While he was talking with Mr. Reeve, he said, the attorney halted momentarily and carefully laid his head on his desk. Believing that he was taking a rest, Mr. Hamilton said he did not think of anything at the time. He called to Mr. Reeve several times, and failing to receive an answer, called for assistance. C. R. Grunz answered immediately, while Mr. Hamilton called over a telephone for a physician.

Mr. Grunz said he heard the final ring of the dining man as he entered the room, but did not recognize it as such. He told of attempting to revive Mr. Reeve, and of the arrival of Dr. Ellsworth Black. Dr. Black said he believed death was caused by cerebral embolism.

Green Testifies
Rep. Hugh Green told of his associations with Mr. Reeve, stating that he had been closely associated with the deceased for a number of years. Mr. Reeve had a breakdown a few years ago after an extended motor trip to California, and that since that time, his health had not been good. He recently suffered from a cold.

Mrs. Lina Epperson, who became a stenographer for Mr. Reeve in February, 1927, and who has been in his employ since that time, said that the only indication she had noticed that his health was not as it should be was that he was in the habit of returning home earlier each day than usual, and that he did not drive his car. There were times, she said, when it was difficult to decipher his handwriting, but that this month he had signed checks with his usual bold strokes. L. F. Randall also testified at the inquest.

A. G. Leedy was foreman of the coroner's jury, which was composed of Clyde McKelister, John Furry, S. T. Ericson, R. Ericson and Vincent Riley. For many years Mr. Reeve occupied a place of prominence in the professional, civic and religious life of Jacksonville. He held several city offices; practiced law here for nearly 40 years; took an active interest in affairs of fraternal organizations and held two high offices in the Knights of Pythias.

He was elected Grand Chancellor of the State of Illinois by the Pythians in 1917, and was more highly honored in 1922 when he was named Supreme Outer Guard in the same order.

Postmaster Two Terms
During several periods of his life Attorney Reeve was in especially close touch with Jacksonville and its people. He served as postmaster for two terms from 1904 to 1913, and three terms as Mayor of Jacksonville from 1927 to 1933.

Always a staunch Republican, Mr. Reeve was active in party matters and often represented his party at conventions.

He was city attorney for several years, another position which put him into close touch with community life. As mayor of the city Mr. Reeve expressed deep interest in the community at all times. His administrations were marked by well planned progress.

He was born on a farm in Morgan county in 1862, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Reeve. After receiving his education in the schools of this city he went to Kansas, where he was admitted to the bar and practiced for a time in Yates Center, with the firm Hogue and Stephenson.

In Law Partnerships
Returning to this city he engaged in a law partnership with Morrison and Worthington, and after the death of Mr. Morrison the firm later changed to Worthington, Reeve and Associates. Mr. Reeve was associated in business with Hugh Green for several years after the death of Mr. Worthington in 1922, and more recently with Mr. Green and Charles Ray Grunz.

The deceased was regarded as a man possessed of a fine legal mind. He was unusually successful in cases of all types in the state and federal courts.

Possessed of a frank and genial disposition, Mr. Reeve's friends were legion. He exhibited these friendly traits to the last, as only a few minutes before death he was engaged in pleasant conversation with acquaintances.

In conversation with a Journal and Courier editorial writer Tuesday morning Mr. Reeve had good words for an editorial, "Liberty or Government," which appeared in Tuesday morning's issue. He also commented on some of the statements made by Raymond Robbins during an address here Monday, to which he listened.

Mr. Reeve was a trustee of Grace M. E. church, and for many years taught a men's class in the Grace Sunday school. He held membership in a number of lodges, including Harmony Lodge A. F. and A. M., Knights Templar, Shrine, Odd Fellows, Rotary and others.

At the time of death he was a member of the Board of Governors of the Illinois Bar association.

He is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Ella Watson of Yates Center, Kansas; one daughter, Mrs. Homer L. Wood; one son, Arthur Reeve; three brothers, T. B. Reeve, Jacksonville; Obed Reeve, Geneva, Ill.; and William Reeve, Torrance, Calif.; and two sisters, Mrs. Alex Smith, Jacksonville, and Mrs. Edith VanPelt, Tulsa, Okla. One son, John Watson Reeve, preceded his father in death.

Fourteen grandchildren also survive. They are: Watson, Charles, Rena, Dorothy, John Jay, Robert, Eleanor, Martha, Frank, Lois Mae and Miriam, children of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reeve of this city; Mrs. Helen Wood Mallory, Huntington, Park, Calif.; Betty Anne Wood, and John Iven Wood, children of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wood, Jacksonville.

AAA RULING EASES LIMITATIONS FOR EMERGENCY CROPS

More Than 90,000 Acres in Morgan County Can Be Used For Hay

Ninety thousand six hundred and eighty-four acres of AAA contracted land in Morgan county, as well as any and all non-contracted acreage, can now be turned to the production of certain hay, forage and pasture crops to offset the feed shortage that threatens to follow as the result of the unprecedented drought, according to Farm Adviser I. E. Parrett.

Modifications in corn-hog contracts to permit such plantings in Illinois have just been announced by Dr. A. G. Black, chief of the AAA corn-hog section through the extension service of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The 1930 corn-hog signers in this county may now use their 90,684 contracted acres for all hay, pasture or forage purposes, except the planting of fodder corn and grain sorghum.

Heretofore the use of contracted acres has been so limited that contract signers were only permitted to pasture additional permanent pasture that was seeded without a nurse crop.

The modification is particularly helpful to farmers who are now short of pasture or hay and who last spring seeded their contracted acreage to a forage crop for the purpose of plowing it under for soil improvement. This crop may now be cut for hay or pastured as the contract signer desires.

The new ruling also helps farmers who set aside for their contracted acres old bluegrass or clover pastures which they intended to plow under in a soil improvement program. This acreage can now be pastured or used for hay.

Furthermore, the contracted acres can now be planted to soybeans, sudan grass or millet to be used as an emergency pasture or forage crop in late summer and early fall. Such crops, however, must not be cut for seed purposes but must be fed as forage.

In addition, the limitations have been modified to the extent that any and all non-contracted acres may be seeded to any crop for forage purposes, including fodder corn and grain sorghum. Heretofore, farmers were limited in their plantings of these crops over non-contracted land, because heir acreage of soybeans, cowpeas and all other harvested crops in 1934 could not be more than their harvested corn acreage for 1932 or 1933, whichever was the higher.

However, even with the modifications, neither the fodder corn nor the sorghum can be planted prior to a date to be set by the Secretary of Agriculture. This date has not as yet been established for Morgan county and other Illinois counties, but the decision is expected soon.

It is said that the oat crop in the vicinity of Winchester is practically gone at this time and will not be saved by rain. The wheat crop has also suffered materially, particularly in the tinner soils. Some of the wheat in the better soil and in the river bottoms will make a good yield. The corn crop is still hopeful, but must have rain soon or it too will be lost. Much of the corn planted has come up very irregularly and no doubt the yield will be materially diminished even with good rains from now on through the summer.

Vegetable gardens have been practically burned up by the extreme heat and lack of moisture and the same is true of the lawns and flower gardens of Winchester. It is thought that such a continued dry spell during this season of the year is unparalleled in the history of Scott county.

NO RELIEF FROM DRY WEATHER AT WINCHESTER

Oats Crop Beyond Saving Is Report; Other News
From Winchester

Winchester, Ill., June 5.—Although there have been substantial rains on almost every side of Winchester there has been no relief from the drought here. Yesterday evening about 5:00 the wind blew with considerable violence and it appeared that a rain was on the way here, but a very negligible amount of rainfall actually arrived. However, south of Winchester, at Glasgow and Alsey, there was a good rain at this time.

It is said that the oat crop in the vicinity of Winchester is practically gone at this time and will not be saved by rain. The wheat crop has also suffered materially, particularly in the tinner soils. Some of the wheat in the better soil and in the river bottoms will make a good yield. The corn crop is still hopeful, but must have rain soon or it too will be lost. Much of the corn planted has come up very irregularly and no doubt the yield will be materially diminished even with good rains from now on through the summer.

Vegetable gardens have been practically burned up by the extreme heat and lack of moisture and the same is true of the lawns and flower gardens of Winchester. It is thought that such a continued dry spell during this season of the year is unparalleled in the history of Scott county.

Thomas Costello, pastor who carried the Blessed Sacrament, which was placed on exposition on the flower and candle decorated altar until 3:00 p. m., when a procession again was made to the main altar and Solemn Pulpit Benediction was given.
